

Going Green: Your Animal Sanctuary and The Environment

...alphabetical order. Things That Are Toxic To Alpacas Things That Are Toxic To Chickens / Foods Toxic To Chickens Infographic Things That Are Toxic To Cows / Foods Toxic To...

---

Sharing Your Home With Chickens

...is toxic to birds when inhaled. At high temperatures, items containing PTFE can put out highly toxic fumes, causing Polytetrafluoroethylene Toxicosis (also known as Teflon Flu and Polymer Fume Fever)....

---

Daily Diet, Treats, & Supplements For Cows

...more likely to consume these toxic plants. So just because you have never had an issue with toxicity, this does not mean that your pastures do not contain toxic plants....

---

Daily Diet, Treats, And Supplements For Pigs

...good example is kale- while the leaves are a great addition to a pig resident's diet, the seeds and roots are toxic. Check out our list of toxic and questionable...

---

Goat Resident Safety Part 1: General Safety Considerations

...behavior may expose them to more toxic plants than residents who primarily graze – Because of their preference for browsing, toxic plants that grazing residents may ignore could pose a...

---

Daily Diet, Treats, & Supplements For Sheep

...be incorporated thoughtfully. Beware Of Toxic Plants! Before giving sheep residents access to outdoor spaces, ensure that they have been thoroughly checked for toxic plants! Pasture Management Pasture vegetation will...

---

Resident Drinking Water Considerations At Your Animal Sanctuary

...additional tests. Possibilities include: Assessing physiochemical properties such as pH, total dissolved solids, and hardness Checking for excess minerals or other compounds (for example, nitrates) Screening for toxic compounds Identifying...

---

Daily Diet, Treats and Supplements for Chickens

...known poisonous greens (see “Things that are toxic to chickens”, below). Insoluble Grit Not to be confused with the diner classic, insoluble grit refers to small hard rocks and pebbles...

---

Creating A Good Home For Horses

...should provide dry and clean bedding in a horse's living space, like straw or non-toxic wood shavings (there are pros and cons to each), and it's important to give them...

---

Daily Diet, Treats, & Supplements For Goats

...male residents, it's also important to raise the issue of urinary calculi, as certain plants (or certain proportions of plants) may not be appropriate for neutered males. Beware Of Toxic...