

Crafting Compassionate Euthanasia Policies For Your Animal Sanctuary

...providing lifelong compassionate care must also consider what a dignified, peaceful end-of-life would look like for their residents. Although the ideal would be for all residents to peacefully pass in...

The Open Sanctuary Podcast: Fostering Farmed Animal Agency in Sanctuary Education, Part Two

...options, options that are comfortable, enriching, and easily accessible. And that last one is really important. So, if we're creating a safe space, those safe spaces should be accessible. So,...

The Open Sanctuary Podcast: Finding Good Information For Your Animal Organization

...coming from a place that it was either or, you know, like you could either protect them or they could have an enriching life. But then when you think about...

Colic In Equines: What You Need To Know

...learning. Mix up their environment with different sights, sounds, smells, and textures (In a way that the resident finds enriching. If they are afraid or indifferent, then it isn't enriching.)...

Introductory Care For Rabbits

...very enriching for many rabbits. In addition to rabbit socialization time, developing a bond with care staff can be enriching as well! Clicker-play can be a great way to communicate...

The Open Sanctuary Project's "So You Want To Rescue A Rabbit" Brochure

...Rabbits Daily Diet, Treats, And Supplements For Rabbits How To Conduct A Rabbit Health Check Potential Rabbit Health Challenges
Creating An Enriching Life For Rabbits How To Trim A Rabbit's...

Saying Goodbye With Respect and Safety At Your Animal Sanctuary

...those who cared for and loved them. Keeping Record Of End-Of-Life Events In order to help sanctuaries track End-Of-Life care at their organizations, we've developed a free downloadable form just...

Advanced Topics In Resident Health: Barber Pole Worm

...worm is especially dangerous because it is a blood-sucking parasite that has the potential to cause life-threatening anemia. These worms have a short life cycle and one female can produce...

Introductory Care For Cavies (Guinea Pigs)

...a cavy-safe space. Never use an exercise ball or wheel with a cavy resident as this can result in injury to their back. Social time can be very enriching for...

Nutritional Enrichment At Animal Sanctuaries

...from the ceiling enriching, whereas pigs may find rooting for buried treats under the ground, under logs, or in rooting boxes enriching! Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza And Bird Residents Due...