

Safe Cohabitation Considerations For Turkeys

...from predators. In some cases, this simply entails housing larger species with smaller species, but other times it involves specific species who have been designated by humans as “livestock guardians”...

Preparing For And Conducting Resident Introductions

...important steps in preparing for and conducting resident introductions. Species-Specific Guidance This resource is meant to apply generally to all species typically cared for at a farmed animal sanctuary. However,...

Safe Cohabitation Considerations For Sheep

...to protect more vulnerable species from predators. In some cases, this simply entails housing larger species with smaller species, but other times it involves specific species who have been designated...

Predator-Proofing For Bird Residents At Your Sanctuary

...the U.S. and areas of Canada and Mexico, though the degree of risk posed may vary depending on your residents' species/size/health (i.e., a button quail is going to be more...

Behavior 102 For Animal Sanctuaries: Communication

...It can help you better appreciate the vocalizations you hear, the behaviors you see, and the body language you observe. While much of communication is intra-species, inter-species communication also exists,...

Safe Cohabitation Considerations For Cows

...safe cohabitation with members of other species. However, there are certain species who may be more likely to safely cohabitate than others, and in some cases there are species combinations...

Potential Sheep Health Challenges

...Of the domesticated species, sheep are the most severely affected. Transmission of bluetongue virus (BTV) occurs primarily via biting midges (Culicoides spp.), though not all species of Culicoides act as...

Potential Chicken Health Challenges

...a contaminated environment. Lice are typically species-specific, but other bird species living in close contact with chickens could be affected by chicken lice and vice versa. However, lice species that...

Establishing Safe And Effective Quarantine And

Isolation Protocols For Your Animal Sanctuary

...the needs of a specific species (or group of similar species). To learn more about the housing needs for farmed animal species, check out our resources here. 3. The Quarantine...

Potential Cow Health Challenges

...contagious viral infection caused by Bovine Viral Diarrhea Virus (BVDV). While cows are the natural host for this virus, other ruminant species as well as other species like pigs and...