

ADVANCING
PERFORMANCE
TOGETHER

LESION SCORING GUIDE

FOR SWIN

| LESION DESCRIPTION | TOES (T)                                                                                                                                 | DEW CL WS (DC)                                                                                                                                | HEEL OVERGROWTH AND EROSION (HOE)                                                                                                                      | HEEL-SOLE CR CK (HSC)                                                                                                            | WHITE LINE (WL)                                                                                                                         | CR CKED W LL HORIZONTAL L (CWH)                                                                                                                     | CR CKED W LL VERTIC L (CWV)                                                                                                 |
|--------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1MILD          | One or more toes slightly longer than normal      | Slightly longer than normal                            | Slight overgrowth and/or erosion in soft heel tissue            | Slight separation at the junction          | Shallow and/or short separation along white line   | Hemorrhage evident, short/shallow horizontal crack in toe wall | Short/shallow vertical crack in wall    |
| 2MODERATE      | One or more toes significantly longer than normal | Claws extend to floor surface when the pig is standing | Numerous cracks with obvious overgrowth and erosion             | Long separation at the junction            | Long separation along white line                   | Long but shallow horizontal crack in toe wall                  | Long but shallow vertical crack in wall |
| 3SEVERE        | Long toes that affect gait when walking         | Claw is torn and/or partially or completely missing  | Large amount of erosion and overgrowth with cracks throughout | Long and deep separation at the junction | Multiple or deep horizontal crack(s) in toe wall | Multiple or deep vertical crack(s) in wall                   |                                                                                                                             |

Anatomy of a Pig's foot

REAR VIEW

LONGITUDINAL SECTION

For more information: contact your Zinpro® representative or visit zinpro.com/swine

Produced by the Zinpro FeetFirst Team
Dr. J. Deen, Dr. M. Schuttert, Dr. S. van Amstel,
Dr. P. Ossent, Dr. R. van Barneveld and Zinpro Corporation